Lancelot and Elaine

Lancelot and Elaine are the swans who currently reside on Lake LaVerne and originally donated by the Class of 1931.

Lake LaVerne

Lake LaVerne was constructed and landscaped in 1916, a gift of LaVerne Noyes, an 1872 Iowa State alumnus. One of Iowa State’s many traditions involves Lake LaVerne. If you walk silently around the lake three times with your beloved, you are destined to be together.

Fountain of the Four Seasons
Placed around a circular fountain, the four seated American Indian women represent an Osage chant of thanksgiving. The four women face north, south, east and west, each demonstrating a line of the prayer. The first woman is planting the seed, "Lo, I come to the tender planting." The second woman bends close to the earth, "Lo, a tender shoot breaks forth." The third woman holds a harvest basket of maize, "Lo, I collect the golden harvest." The forth woman nurses her newborn baby, "Lo, there is joy in my house."

Overview of Benefits
Please Note: The following information in this summary regarding insurance coverage is limited. Benefits are administrated as described in each plan’s coverage manual provided by the insurance company.
Campanile

The story of the campanile is a love story. Edgar Stanton graduated with the first class of Iowa State in 1872. He spent 50 years on campus as a student and faculty member. When his first wife, Margaret MacDonald Stanton, died in 1895, Stanton wanted to establish a monument so all students and friends of Iowa State would remember her.

Since the story of the campanile is a love story, the “campaniling” tradition was created. A student officially becomes an Iowa Stater when he or she is kissed under the campanile at the stroke of midnight. During homecoming hundreds of students gather for mass campaniling. Couples kiss, the band plays, and fireworks go off at the stroke of midnight.
