

Use of Electronic Bid Documents –Bidding Document Distribution Webpage

Iowa State University makes electronic bid documents, including drawings and specifications, available on this web site for the convenience of those participating in the bidding of projects (User) to be awarded by Iowa State University. Printed hard copies can be obtained from Iowa State University Printing & Copy Services.

By accessing and using electronic bid documents from the site User acknowledges and accepts the following:

- Iowa State University grants User a limited license to use the electronic bid documents solely for the purpose of bidding on the project. Any other use of the bid documents without Iowa State University's written permission is strictly prohibited.
- Iowa State University retains ownership and all rights, including any copyright or other intellectual property rights, to the electronic bid documents regardless of format.
- If User elects to only download partial information (selected sheets of the drawings or pages of the specifications), User shall be responsible for obtaining all pertinent information to adequately and accurately prepare its bid.
- Electronic bid documents are furnished without guarantee of compatibility with User's software or hardware. It is User's responsibility to determine/evaluate the capability of its equipment to provide documents that are accurate for size, scale, and content. If User must download third party software to download documents (e.g., Acrobat Reader), Iowa State University is not responsible for any problems caused by downloading and using such software.
- User shall notify Iowa State University immediately of any errors or omissions from the electronic bid documents.
- User agrees to release, indemnify and hold Iowa State University, the Board of Regents – State of Iowa, the State of Iowa and their respective officers, employees and agents harmless against all claims, damages, losses, and expenses, including reasonable attorney's fees and defense costs, arising out of or resulting from the download and use of these electronic bid documents.

Use of Electronic Documents -CENTRIC

Electronic Documents that are available on this web site are for the use and convenience of the project team in completing w related to their contractual responsibilities on the project. Use of these materials for any other purpose shall be without liability to Iowa State University and their consultants.

These documents may not be used in whole or in part for any project other than the subject project. Use of the electronic data by the contractor, subcontractors, suppliers, or any other members of the project team (User) will be at the sole risk of the User and without liability, risk, or legal exposure to Iowa State University and their consultants.

Although the electronic documents were the basis for the Contract Documents, the User must acknowledge that they are works in progress, are subject to change without notice, and may contain errors, distortions, omissions or inaccuracies due to the manipulation of electronic data. There may be differences between electronic copies and printed hard copies. In the event of a conflict in their content, the printed hard copies shall take precedence over the electronic copies. Iowa State University shall be notified immediately of any omissions from the electronic files. Electronic documents are furnished without guarantee of compatibility with the User's software or hardware. It is the User's responsibility to determine/evaluate the capability of their equipment to provide documents that are accurate for size, scale, and content.

The User of electronic documents agrees to release and, to the greatest extent permitted by law, indemnifies and holds Iowa State University harmless against all claims, damages, losses, and expenses, including reasonable attorney's fees and defense costs, arising out of or resulting from the use of these electronic documents.